

The University Hatchet

Colonials Bid for National Fame in Game With Alabama

Determined Buff Team Will Battle Undefeated Alabama Eleven

Surging on the crest of an unbeaten season, the Crimson Tide of Alabama rolls into Griffith Stadium on Saturday afternoon to sweep into action at 2:30 p. m. against a determined Colonial football machine before what promises to be a record mob of some 35,000 fans.

Keyed by its victory over heretofore undefeated Vols of the University of Tennessee, Alabama will be fighting for all its pride and honor, for an undefeated season will surely mean the Tide's fifth trip to the Rose Bowl. Therefore, with the Colonials in top physical condition following two weeks of valuable practice, the record crowd will see what is expected to be the best football game in Washington this year.

More impressive than ever before, the Crimson Tide has swept all opposition aside, rolling up some 141 points in the four games, while its opponents in the same number of battles have scored only one touchdown and that by Tennessee on last Saturday.

More Evenly Matched

Even though the two teams are better matched than on that memorable day in 1935 when the Bama team rolled up a 39-0 count, the Colonials will enter the battle as decidedly underdogish underdogs, but the Pilemen have a distinct chance of upsetting the dope and emerging victorious over one of the most, if not the most, powerful teams of the nation.

By measure of weight, the lines of the two teams are almost evenly matched, with the average Alabama lineman tipping the beam at 258 pounds, while the Colonial forward will average but a fraction of a pound lighter.

In the backfield, at least as far as the starting lineup is concerned, the Bama have the advantage with an average of 182 pounds, five pounds heavier than the Colonial average, but the Buffmen are considered to be faster and shifter than their foes.

Bama Record Is Impressive

Alabama's record over the past ten years is one of the most impressive in collegiate football circles. In 95 games, the Tide has won 75, lost 16 and tied 4. Two of these victories were scored over Colonial teams. Four times in the same decade the Tide has been selected to participate in the Rose Bowl classic, and it has won three times and has been tied once.

In Alabama's starting backfield will probably be Hal Hughes at quarter, Joe Kilgore at left half, George Zivich at right half and Charley Holm at fullback. It has been Joe Kilgore, who was the outstanding player for the Tide last year, that has furnished the southeners with a major portion of their

(See "Bama page 6")

Twenty Students Are Selected for Debate Squad

Twenty students have been selected by Prof. Harold F. Harding of the public speaking department from those competing in the try-outs held last week for the men's debate squad.

From this number will be chosen the individual teams to meet the representatives of those institutions included in the University debate schedule this season.

The Union will be host to the debate team of the University of Melbourne, Australia, on November 29. The University will also be represented at the meeting of the Model Senate Association at Colgate University in March.

The students chosen for the debate squad are William Beale, Edwin Cane, Charles Corcoran, Calvin Cory, John Dutton, Sammy Farha, Wayne Kniffin, Leonard Peterson, Parke Peterson, George Pugh, William Rochelle, Simon Ruttenberg, George Sheya, Stuart Russell, John Southmayd, William Stem, Frank Whitbeck, Leonard Wilson, James Mott and Warren Martin.

Co-op Books Must Be Turned in For Audit

All salesmen of Co-op books will be required to turn in books issued to them for audit this week. Roger Power, director, announced Sunday. Books will be re-assigned, Power said, after the number of sales has been determined.

The Co-op book, operating this year under a new policy, sells for $3 with a real value of $5, and offers a choice of any five of ten listed events. These include two after-game dances, one all-University Prom, one Junior College Council dance, one Cue and Curtin play and the Homecoming Ball and Theater Rally.

Only one ticket from a book may be used for any one event and violation of this rule will result in cancellation of the book.

The books cover events in the first semester only, and it is expected there will be another issue next semester.

Joe Kilgore

Perron "Shoey" Shoemaker

Dr. Buchanan Glee Club Will Address Artus Society For Concert

Initiation of new members into Artus, national economics honor society, will take place Friday night in Columbian House. Prof. Arthur E. Burns, executive officer of the economics department, has arranged a talk to be given by Dr. Allan Buchanan following the brief initiation ceremony.

Dr. Buchanan, lecturer in economics and formerly a member of the economics department at the University of California, is now giving a course here in labor economics. He is also an economist for the Federal government. The meeting will be attended by numerous government economists who are Artus members of other chapters and by the faculty and student members of the University chapter.

Limits Members

Membership in Artus is limited to Senior men majoring in economics with outstanding records in their work. Graduate students who have distinguished themselves in advanced economics work are also invited to membership.

Each semester those students who meet qualifications set by the economics department will be invited to membership.

Peyton Kerr and H. W. Witcover are the student officers of the chapter.

Meet Regularly

In line with the purpose of the organization, Artus will conduct regular meetings throughout the year. The local chapter was organized last semester by Profs. Burns, Donalds, Watson, and Ralph Kennedy, all members of chapters in other universities, for the purpose of providing a means of discussing informally the economic problems of the present.

The second meeting of the chapter will be held during the first week of November. Prof. Burns announced that he has arranged to have Dr. Leon Henderson give an informal discussion of the present prospects of recovery. Dr. Henderson was formerly director of the division of research and planning of the NRA and is one of the leading economists in government service.

Episcopalians Meet

The Episcopal Club will meet tonight at 8 in Columbian House, second floor, in its second open meeting of the year.

Plans for the year will be laid, followed by a round-table discussion.

Irish Play Opens Cue and Curtin Season, December 3, at Wardman

"The Whitehead Boy," an Irish comedy by Lennox Robinson, was announced as the opening play of Cue and Curtin to be given Dec. 3 and 4 at Wardman Park Theater.

Open try-outs will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in D-105, for all who have not registered with Cue and Curtin or appeared in previous shows.

Try-outs Will Be Thorough

Closed try-outs are scheduled for tomorrow at 8 p. m. in D-105, for active and associate members, including all those who registered at the first meeting.

Try-outs, which will not necessarily be based on the text of "The Whitehead Boy," will be fairly extensive, Director Marvin Beers said, and will be intended to cover the entire technique of acting. Speaking, expression, stage presence, and pantomime will be included.

Those entering try-outs should prepare in advance a short scene from any play they may choose, preferably in groups of two or three. All lines must be memorized, Beers emphasized, to avoid the appearance of a mere "reading."

Irish Plays Popular

"The Whitehead Boy" adds another to the list of Irish comedies produced by Cue and Curtin, which has had its greatest success in this type of play. Last season's offering of "The New Gossoon" was a distinct hit.

Robinson's play, one of the most popular in the repertoire of the Irish Theater Abbey Players, will be given in plain English, and not with Irish brogue, Beers said.

The cast will include about a dozen characters of diverse ages and types, which offers opportunity for players of varying abilities from heavy to juvenile.

Positions also are open on the production, make-up, business, and publicity staffs, and interested students should report at Thursday's try-outs.

Radio Plays Planned

Revival of Radio Players and plans for a series of radio sketches also were discussed at the meeting. Dr. John F. Latimer, classics professor, outlined a series of six or seven original 30-minute sketches for radio based on the life of Helen of Troy. Consideration of their presentation was referred to the production board.

Prof. Harold F. Harding of the public speaking department, addressed the group of about 60, and expressed the hope that Cue and Curtin will have a stage on campus before many years. He praised "the spirit of Cue and Curtin," and urged that every member try to keep this spirit "vigorously alive."

Rousers Revive Card Display for Alabama Game

The Rousers have announced that a card system will be used by the student cheering section at the Alabama game Saturday. This will be the first revival here of the system, used at major universities throughout the country, since 1935.

Because of the card system only 875 seats are available in the cheering section and no more will be permitted. The instructions governing the use of the cards will be announced over the public address by Sam Walker, head cheerleader, and requests that his orders be followed implicitly. Those on the fringes of the section and those in between the letters which will be formed will have Buff and Blue pom-poms of paper to wave which will form a colorful background from which the letters will stand out very clearly.

It has been reported that 500 Alabama students will be in the stands

Bonfire Rally

There will be a gigantic pep rally with huge bonfires and all of the trimmings, Friday at 8:30 p. m. on the University parking lot, according to a statement released by Sam Walker, head cheerleader.

It is planned to have the entire band out in full uniform, members of the football team, the coaches and many of the student body as participants.

The student body, under the direction of the Freshman club, will be required to assist in the collecting of the wood boxes, crates, fence posts and anything else that is burnable.

All cars must be off the parking lot at 7 p. m. Friday, in order that preliminary preparations may proceed. According to the cheerleaders, this will be the first time in recent years that it has been feasible to hold a rally of this type, something that most campus universities hold for every game.

and keen competition from the opponents' cheering section is expected.

During the halftime band will first serenade the Alabama stands, and then will form in front of the cheering section and play the Alma Mater. This song is among those printed on the megaphones and the cheerleaders request that these phones be used for cheering as well as singing. A "three ring circus" featuring several fraternities will be staged under the direction of the Rousers.

The reserved student section will close at 2:10 Saturday. Hal Rodgers, stand marshal, has been instructed to allow no one to enter after that time. Seventy-five Medical students have recently signed up for the cheering section and have promised the undergraduates stiff competition, in fact they have boasted that they will make more noise than the rest of the school put together.

An attempt will be made to have the student body meet the special train which is to bring the Bama rooters and their team. The time was announced on the various school bulletins and in the daily newspapers.

Radio Rally Planned For Friday Night

In connection with the Alabama game on Saturday a radio rally has been arranged with broadcasting that will be given over one of the NBC stations on Friday night.

The broadcast will be heard preceding the rally at the University and will consist of talks by Coaches Jim Pilexle of the Colonials and Coach Thomas of the Crimson Tide, and songs and cheers by part of the University Glee Club.

Hatchet Photo Club Holds First Meeting

Seventeen students attended the first meeting of the newly formed Hatchet-sponsored Photographic Club Wednesday night.

The group, representing the charter members, discussed the organization of the club and its plans for the future. A committee was appointed by Sterling Wright, acting president, to draw up a constitution for approval of the members, which is to be headed by George Morgan and Vernon Benjamin.

Further agreements reached at the meeting were to have meetings on the second and last Wednesday of each month and to charge the members a small amount of dues to carry any financial obligations which might be incurred.

There will be an informal social meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in Columbian House to enable the members to become better acquainted. An invitation is extended to all students to come. The next business meeting of the club will be held on Oct. 27 at 7:30 in D-202.

Those who attended the first meeting were: James Gnam, Vernon Benjamin, Edgar Parsons, Fern Merritt, Walter Gellich, Robert Dunn, Wilbur So, Julian Griggs, Herbert Stern, William Seabrooke, George Morgan, Jerome Swimmer, Nathan Green, Fred Hall, James Freedman, Wayne Lineberger, and Leonard Glade.

Davis Contest Is Announced For 90th Year

The ninetieth Davis Prize Speaking Contest, open to all members of the Senior class, will be held November 17. The prizes for the contest are fifteen, ten and five dollars respectively for the first three places.

Manuscripts Must Be Submitted

All interested Seniors are urged to leave their names at the public speaking office, D-416, on or before October 27 and written copies of their proposed orations (not more than 1,200 words) must be submitted before 5 p. m., November 3.

From these written copies six or seven of the best will be selected for delivery by a committee consisting of Prof. W. H. Zeager, Dr. Harold Harding and DeWitt Bennett of the Public Speaking Department.

Last year's winner was Charles Kiefer, with a speech entitled, "The Lesson of England." Austin Roe and Edward Kemper were the other two prize winners.

Previous Winners

Alumni who have been winners of the Davis Prize in previous years are Mr. Theodore W. Noyes, editor of the Evening Star, in 1877; Dr. Harry C. Davis, secretary of the Board of Trustees of the University, in 1878; Dean Van Vleck of the Law School, second prize winner, in 1908; Dean Elmer Louis Kayser in 1917; Mr. Harryman Dorsey, instructor in the Political Science Department, winner in 1929.

Student Recovering After Attack

Police last night were holding two men on suspicion as an intensive hunt was launched for the attacker of Miss Ruth MacMillan, a junior in the University. Miss MacMillan, who was reported as improving yesterday, believes she can identify the assailant.

Although she is still suffering from the shock of her experience, it was said at her home that the only bar to Miss MacMillan's early recovery would be the danger from infection in the numerous wounds inflicted about her face, neck, and chest by the well-dressed white man who assaulted her.

At present he is on leave from Brigham Young, and for the next four months will be engaged in research at the Agriculture Department into Federal reclamation projects in Utah.

Publications Board Approves Eight Nominations

The Publications Committee has announced the following tentatively approved list, subject to final approval:

Robert Linehan has been appointed editor of the Handbook for 1938-'39 and John Daugherty, Augustus Johnson and James Speer have been named associate editors.

Robert Linehan has been a member of the Handbook staff for two years, serving last year as associate editor. He was in charge of the Organization section of the last Handbook.

John Daugherty, associate editor in charge of Activities of the 1937-'38 Handbook, has been on the Handbook staff the past two years. He has been a member of the Senior staff for the past year and a half on the Hatchet staff. He has covered the Student Council and debate and served as copy editor for the past year.

Augustus Johnson, Handbook associate editor last year, was in charge of the University section. He has been a member of the staff for two years.

James Speer, associate editor of the 1937-'38 Handbook, has been a member of the staff for two years and last year served as copy editor. Paul Yost has been approved as business manager of the Hatchet and John Daugherty has been named to the Board of Editors. Before definite appointment is effective, Hatchet nominees must serve a probationary period of four weeks.

Paul Yost has been a member of the Hatchet staff since his appointment as acting business manager last spring.

Medicos Hold Dance

Phi Chi, men's professional medical fraternity, will hold a house dance this Saturday. Phi Chi entertained their pledges at a dance last Saturday.

THIS WEEK on the Campus and in The Hatchet

Today	Thursday
4:30 p.m.—Dean Earl B. McKinley Speaks, Medical School Library.	4 p.m.—President Marvin Speaks on Symphony, Corcoran Hall.
8 p.m.—Episcopal Club, Columbian House, second floor.	8 p.m.—Cue and Curtin Try-Outs, D-105.
Mathematics Club, D-202.	8:10 p.m.—Christian Science Organization, Columbian House, second floor.
Lester F. Ward Sociological Society, D-105.
Tomorrow	Friday
8 p.m.—Alpha Kappa Psi, Columbian House.	8 p.m.—Artus Initiations, Columbian House.
Cue and Curtin Try-Outs, D-105.	Baptist Student Union, First Baptist Church, Sixteenth and O Sts.
Men's Independents, D-102.	"The Hunchback of Notre Dame," Left Party, Corcoran Hall.
Riding Club, D-203.
Student Council, Kappa Sigma House.
9:30 p.m.—Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Lisner 34.

13 Candidates Enter Homecoming's 'Campus Sweetheart' Contest

Dr. A. Rex Johnson

Commerce Group Will Hear Dr. Johnson

Dr. A. Rex Johnson, national vice-president of Alpha Kappa Psi and Dean of Men at Brigham Young University, will address members of the local chapter tomorrow in Columbian House at 8 p. m. His topic will be "Alpha Kappa Psi in Retrospect and Prospect." In the course of which he will attempt to outline the broad scope of the fraternity as it applies outside of the college chapter.

Dr. Johnson is a former student, having obtained his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees in economics here following his completion of undergraduate work at Brigham Young University and the University of Washington. At Brigham Young he was president of the petitioning group which was accepted into Alpha Kappa Psi.

At present he is on leave from Brigham Young, and for the next four months will be engaged in research at the Agriculture Department into Federal reclamation projects in Utah.

History Dept. Announces Essay Topics

Topics for their fourth annual prize essay contests were announced last week by the history department.

Essays are to be submitted to the department not later than January 15. The contests offer awards of medals and cash, the value ranging from $15 to $25 each, and are open to all students.

Details as to the length and composition of entries may be obtained from Dr. William Gray, executive officer of the history department.

The list of topics is as follows:

The Swisher Prize in Medieval History; subjects: The Black Death and Its Effects; Culture at the Court of Frederick II; The English Parliament Under Edward I.

The Thomas F. Walsh Prize in Irish History; subjects: Strongbow's Conquest of Ireland; Ireland Under Henry VIII.

The Colonial Dames Prize; subjects: The Spaniards in Old Monterey; The Albany Congress; Colonial American Contributions to the English Language.

The Daughters of the American Revolution Prize; subjects: The Founding of New Orleans; Ciron de Beaufort and Secret French Aid to America's Independence; The Winter at Valley Forge.

Buff 'N' Blue Opening Is Distinct Success

Three hundred students dancing against a background of modern murals marked the official opening of the Buff and Blue Room last Friday night as a distinct success.

The floor show, under the direction of "Skippy" Lieberman, master of ceremonies, featured a wide variety of talent. Benny Schnittman came up from the audience after a bit of expert stooping by Ruf McGee and did amazing things on a musical saw. Lieberman then introduced Emily Baffley who sang several torch songs in the approved manner. Les Norquist, baritone, sang two numbers from the musical show, "Desert Song." A tap dance performed by Flora Blumenthal was well received. The entertainment was concluded by a jam fest exhibited by six members of the janitorial staff of G. W.

Bill McCallum and his G.W. Minutemen furnished the music for dancing, with Don Rush doing the vocal choruses.

The whole atmosphere of the Student Club was changed by blanketing out the service counter with a blue curtain. The murals done by Jack Shuman consisted of various aspects of modern swing. Interspersed upon huge musical notes were various caricatures; the most outstanding of which was a figure doing the double truck. Lemon, orange and limeade, fortified with sandwiches, constituted the refreshment for the evening. The complete quota of tables was reserved and few were turned away.

Phi Deltas Meet

Phi Delta Gamma, society for graduate women, will sponsor a tea Oct. 20 and 21, in the Columbian House from 4:30 to 7 p. m. for the alumnae of the George Washington University.

"I wholly disapprove of what you say, but will defend to the death your right to say it."

VOLTAIRE

The University Hatchet

Member: Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States and the National Scholastic Press Association

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY National Advertising Service, Inc.

College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.

CHICAGO - BOSTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly from September to June, with one issue in July, by the students of The George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Entered as second-class matter, October 27, 1911, at the Post Office at Washington, D. C., under Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized March 3, 1919. Subscription $2.00 a year.

EDITORIAL OFFICES, 700 20th Street, Telephone National 5200 (University Exchange), then ask for "Publications Office." After 7 p.m. and on Sunday call District 5170. For last-minute news call National 5838. For Business Manager call Publications Office; after 7 p.m. and on Sunday call District 5170.

Served by (ACP), Associated Collegiate Press, and (MAIP), Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Press.

Board of Editors

EDITOR.....HOWARD W. ENNES, Jr.

Associate Editor.....HOWARD MACE

Associate Editor.....WINFIELD RANKIN

Senior Staff

Frank Ford Burnett, John Daugherty, Barbara Harmon, Robert Linehan, Jack Shulman, James Spear, John Strong, Esther Yanovsky, Sterling Wright, Charles Earl Wallace.

ACTING BUSINESS MANAGER.....PAUL YOST

Business Staff

William Barbee Jacqueline Towson

Vol. 34, No. 5 Tuesday, October 19, 1937

This First "First Edition"

LAST year George Washington University witnessed what could be termed a rebirth of cultural interest. We do not mean that students suddenly turned to latin and the gods; it was an active reawakening crystallized into activity within the Literary Club, the Symphony Club, the Glee Club, with its symphonic-choral work, and Orchestis, modern dance group, with its first public recital.

That interest is continuing and growing. The Hatchet finds that in its publishing field it is possible to record the upswing of the cycle by offering a page of "First Editions." While we do not attempt to label them "good" or "bad" we feel we are fulfilling a part of our obligation to the University by bringing them to light.

Applause for Frankness

A DEFINITE stride of progress in the athletic endeavors of the University was made when Max Farrington, assistant athletic director, announced his new plan for intramural sports. The program promises to provide a much-needed means whereby the day students may obtain the benefits of exercise, active competition, and more intimate fellowship with their classmates. In addition to these more apparent advantages, the program will serve to round out the program of activity for the male day-students; for it will give them a more constructive means of spending their afternoons at the University.

Three sports will provide the center of attention during the fall portion of the program. Already some sixty students have registered for participation in touch football, tennis, and golf. Competent managers and leaders for the team have been named by the committee in charge, so devotees of the activity will not be left to shift for themselves, as has been the case with intramural activity in the past.

The significance of the tournament now under way lies in the fact that it recognizes an athletic program for a University of our enrollment cannot, in fairness, be restricted and intense, but must be broad and well-rounded. In effect, the announcement of this plan puts the skids under one of the long-deferred arguments in favor of collegiate football. i. e., that the existence of a large, well-equipped, and highly coached football squad contributes much to the physical well-being of the student body. Such an argument, especially in view of our "big-time" teams, has been for long so much bosh.

Not only because this new program fulfills a very worthy need for the day-student, but because it places the George Washington football set-up more openly into the position it holds as a mainstay of our financial set-up, we wish every success to it.

Methods and Results

IT IS said that the great majority of people are more interested in results than in methods. Which doesn't mean "Exitus Acta Probat" applies at all, because the methods of doing things greatly affect the things.

We have in mind, first, as to methods, the consideration of the whole activity program as embodied in their activities committee investigation and report; second, as to results, the social program which has been presented the University this year.

To see what can be done in the way of putting extra-curricular activity on a united basis, a group of older activity leaders are meeting this week with Student Life Committee Chairman Bennett. They may do a number of things—or nothing at all, but the methods and procedures they decide upon will materially condition the results to be obtained.

It is in their power to provide a sensible basis of student government by abolishing the present constitution and writing one in line with suggestions in the activity report.

If they can accomplish this without the attempt ending as farcically as the last similar adventure, even those who are beginning to feel their years of extra-curricular activity have gone to waste should take heart. And if they can accomplish this, those that do not care so much for methods as for results should soon be able to appreciate the results.

As to results, we feel that if a concrete and intelligent program can be worked out, we have the people in activities, and we can get the additional ones, to put it over. The Buff and Blue Room seems to us a case in point. If anything, it fills the conception embodied in last year's platforms of "social functions open to all". The entire social program this year, as far as it has gone, demonstrates that when there is an idea, it can be carried through.

There were plenty of ideas in the activity report; perhaps unfortunately, they were problems that to solve will mean a deep digging and uprooting of some other ideas and procedures. We wonder if we will be allowed to work out our destinies.

Missing

THE University now has two flagpoles in the Yard. One of those was given to it by the Class of 1935. Once it was encircled by a brass collar inscribed with the names of those who gave the funds. Where is it now?

The Way of the World

MILITARY GOES LEFT!

a student's view by DENOFID

The Vatican Looks at Japan; Green Looks at Lewis; We look at the Duke.

A CRAZY thing, even for this crazy world, happened this week. All good Leftists, you know, fear and hate the military; and are supposed to do what they can to aid the Loyalists in Spain. A few days ago the French General Staff told the Popular Front government that, unless something were done about the Italians in Spain, they could not be responsible for the defense of the Southern border of France. A Leftist Popular Front government forced by the military to do what good Leftists ought to do with alacrity! What a world, what a world!

This action by the conservative military is embarrassing their Tory allies in Britain. The conservatives have been carrying on a long and Italy. Pencil-like Neville Chamberlain has not proven such a lusty and competent lover as Disraeli and Gladstone. The main hitch to the marriage has been the question of dowry. Both parties want to receive from the other the Mediterranean Sea, although neither will admit that the other has the sea to give in the first place. So the French General Staff suggestion has forced the French and their ally to take firmer stand with Il Duce. The latest is that he has agreed to withdraw some Italian troops from Spain.

The Vatican would probably offer the Lord's blessing to such a union of the British conservatives and the Italians. It came out this week with an announcement of neutrality in Japan's ruthless ravage of China. The Vatican is not convinced, a spokesman is reported to have said, that the Japanese war in China is purely of an anti-Communist character. This action caused some comment. Protection of European civilization and of Christianity, proponents say, as they have said about Spain, Vatican defense of its wealth and privileges, opponents counter. Both sides pretty well agree that the incident was unfortunate; many people, you see, still consider churches purely religious institutions.

ANOTHER union (which the Vatican would not bless) is the love between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of A. If opposites make the best couples, then this ought to be the happiest of marriages. This is probably doomed, if for no other reason than the conflict of personalities. Only one pair of trousers can be worn in that family, and both Green and Lewis have a desire to wear them. Though this is regrettable, it might not be altogether bad. The chilling conservatism of the A. F. of A. might slow down the activities of the C. I. O. A man is not better off if he fastens a ball and chain to his leg.

Those happy larks, the Duke of Windsor and spouse, inspected Germany during their leisure the past few days. The Duke was shown around by Robert Ley of the Labor Front. One report states that Ley talked so much, rattling statistics, etc., that the poor Duke was barely able to get a question. If all Ley's words were right, and if they ought to make a beautiful whopper. But imagine wasting such carefully conceived statistics on The Playboy Of The Western World.

Here and There
NORMAN Thomas spoke to a liberal Protestant group... said lots about social ideals... invited them to attend the socializing of America... top hats and tails (one gathers from his remarks) will be the order of the day... The French municipal elections in the provinces—not the Red suburbs of Paris—found the Socialists and Communists gaining slightly over the Radical Socialists, the Popular Front gaining a bit... The League's medical committee painted a grim picture of the dangers of plague and epidemic which might result from the lack of sanitation in China now that there is a war... but was more concerned with the spread of cholera to other lands than it was with the Chinese civilians that are now stinking Shanghai streets... The whole world spent the week waiting in magnificent resignation the spread of The World War to other lands than Spain and China

13 is your LUCKY NUMBER

Your Lucky Number for Expert Floral Service is District 1300

By Blackstone 1100 of H Street AS NEAR AS YOUR PHONE

Fountain Pens—Why Use a Cheap or Defective Pen—WHEN 95c

and your old pen will purchase a Waterman, Parker, Sheaffer, or other known brand, completely rebuilt and guaranteed—Fine points for shorthand, accuracy and bookkeeping, if desired. E. McCORD 2101-10th St. N.W. Rm. 432

Several Comments On Rushing

By Robert Linehan

RUSHING (have you ever heard that term?) is rapidly drawing to a close and possibly an article on fraternal organizations for the benefit of rushees would not be amiss.

Doubtless many prospective pledges are in the process of choosing which shall be their Greek letter organization and are having a difficult time making a decision. Before the final decision on this matter is made it would be well to consider the reasons for the existence of social organizations, some of their ideals, and how one might benefit from membership therein.

Greek letter organizations have been present on the American campus since the founding of Phi Beta Kappa in 1776. However, secret societies of scholars have existed since the middle ages. They are a tradition on most campuses, something that one automatically thinks of when discussing college life. The purposes of these groups are to bind their members in a close and cooperative union with common purposes and to fuse these members with ties of friendship and loyalty to the University.

THE entire fraternity system is an ideal in itself rather than an actuality. Each group tries to live up to a very high code and in most all cases fail to reach this goal. However, these groups do approach this "ideal" much closer than most noncollegiate organizations.

The third point "what will it benefit me" is the easiest answered. Like every other pursuit in life it is a means of livelihood or a hobby one gets out of it exactly what he puts in to it.

The question "which one shall I choose" now reappears. The following methods of appraisal have been used with success by many and if followed will decide this dilemma for you and leave practically no possibility of regrets later:

1. How well do I like the members of this chapter?
2. What is the standing of the chapter on this campus?
3. What is the national standing of this group?
4. What is its financial position now and what is it likely to be?

With reference to the first two points one must judge for himself. The third point may be cleared up by Bain's "Manual of College Fraternities." The fourth point is the most difficult to ascertain. If the organization operates a house possibly a line on the credit of the organization may be had at the Washington Credit Bureau.

Sam Walker Answers Columnist's Charges

To the Editor of The Hatchet:

IT HAS been called to my attention that the Sigma Chi Fraternity is being accused by a member of the Hatchet staff of reserving 48 seats for the opening of the Buff and Blue Room and then failing to take up these reservations. This statement is untrue. As I personally asked Vincent DeAngelis, Manager of the Club, to cancel these reservations prior to the opening of the room and the seats were available to all who desired them. Mr. DeAngelis will vouch for this fact.

Samuel H. Walker III, Columbian College

Hatchet Notice

There will be a meeting of the entire staff of the Hatchet, next Sunday at 5 p.m. in Columbian House. All members of the staff must be present.

BOOKS... Paul PEARLMAN 1711 G

Meditations

BUFF ROOM BLUES

By Winfield Rankin

The One "Blue" Note in The Buff 'n Blue Room Opening.

HERE'S to this week's No. 1 "fall guy"—good-natured, hard-working Sammy Walker. Sammy reserved, by their request, 48 places in the Buff and Blue Room for his brother Sigma Chi's and their dates. Two of these were used—Sammy and his date showed up.

Maybe the other 46 people who had reservations were attending to their studying—a very popular pastime. Or maybe they were knitting socks for the Veterans of Future Wars, or even stuffing macaroni with the holes out of doughnuts. One thing is certain: They weren't putting down 75 cents per couple as cover charge to use their reservations at the opening of the Buff and Blue Room.

Had even a comparatively small group of the Sigma Chi's and their dates been present, the affair could have been overlooked. But even a blind man could have seen that there was a dark-hued gentleman somewhere in the woodpile when such a mass "boycott" by one group took place.

Since, in the University, we are all just one big happy family, I cannot understand any reason for such a move. I just know it couldn't have been politics. The really unfortunate part of the whole affair is that so many were turned away. There would have been no trouble filling the room, even as late as Friday morning.

The decent thing to do, of course, is for the Sigma Chi's to pay for the unused tables which they had reserved. This column will keep one and all abreast of any such news. It will be glad to note next week that these boys have kept faith.

Such perversity and ignorance, as they have displayed, seems to call more for pity than blame.

Whoever was the publicity agent for the Buff and Blue Room opening has not been revealed, but certainly he should not be left out of any accredited ratings, for he really got some nice downtown publicity. Redecorated to such an extent, and with such a taste that it was almost unrecognizable, the Student Club was transformed into the Buff and Blue Room, Friday night, and became the scene of more real gaiety than the school has seen at any of its public functions within memory of contemporary students.

The only possible exception might have been the Barn Dance of last year. As the Washington Post so aptly said, there were no cries of "prost!", "blanke!", or singing of drinking songs. Food, light, liquid refreshments, good spirit, and good music did away with the desire for them.

If last Friday was any basis for judgment, the term "Student Orchestra" and "good music" will be forever linked at school gatherings, because of the really first-class performance Bill McCallum and the boys gave. While this same band was admittedly a bit "rusty" at the Freshman Mixer, because it was their first time, they did a much practice or something, and their orchestra last Friday sound like a cross between Hal Kemp and Tommy Dorsey.

In the way of entertainment, everything was well done. From the saw playing act clear down to the finale by the G. W. Janitor's Jazz Jaspers, everything was well received.

MICROSCOPES We have a limited number of used microscopes which we offer fully guaranteed. Sold subject to the approval of the Medical School. Capital Camera Exchange 1008 Penna. Ave. N.W.

OVER 5,000,000 Frank MEDICO PIPE SMOKERS AGREE WITH DR. MILLING, M.D.

DR. CHAPMAN J. MILLING
Feb. 10, 1937
New York, N. Y.
Gentlemen:-
About eighteen months ago I was forced to quit smoking a pipe because the tarry products in the bowl kept me characteristically nauseated. Too bad, but it couldn't be helped. No use feeling miserable every time I fired up. So I stayed off tobacco for over a year.
Then one day I saw a few Frank's Medicos in a druggist's showcase, and half-heartedly decided to try one. So many patented filter systems on the market. But I'd risk a dollar on one anyhow, just in hopes...
For six happy months, now I've been smoking that Frank's. This afternoon I bought my second one, and have it sending up incense as I write. I want to tell you—in case you don't already know it—that you're one of the benefactors of society. Lol the poor Indian! Lol Sir Walter Raleigh! Lol everybody who died before you brought out a filter that really works. I'm telling my friends by the dozen, but not fast enough.
You may use my name if you care to, and add that this letter is absolutely unsolicited on your part.
Very cordially yours,
Chapman J. Milling M.D.

SEE NEW SHAPES & FINISHES
Don't be misled by low price
FINEST BRIAR MONEY CAN BUY
UNHEARD OF VALUE
Frank MEDICO FILTER-COOL
ONLY PAT'D FILTER COMBINING MOISTURE PROOF CELLOPHANE EXTERIOR AND 66 BAFFLE ABSORBENT MESH SCREEN INTERIOR, RESULTING IN GREATEST PIPE SMOKING INVENTION EVER KNOWN

Civics Opens with "Excursion"; Is "Popular Opera" Here?

Operas this week: Rialto Theater, 9th and G Sts., Tonight, Rigoletto; tomorrow eve, Faust; Thurs. eve, Il Barbiere di Siviglia; Fri. eve, La Traviata; Sat. mat., Martha; in English: Sat. eve, Carmen; Sun. mat., Lucia di Lammermoor; Sun. eve, Il Trovatore.

Opening tomorrow, Wardman Park Theater, "Exclusive", first Civic Theater presentation.

By Norman Rose

AS AN opener for the season the Washington Civic Theatre has chosen "Excursion," by Victor Wolfson. We caught the dress rehearsal on Sunday night at the Wardman Park Theatre and although the going was a bit rough in spots, especially when Director Strickland began tearing his hair out, it could easily be seen that here was a play having a little bit more to say than the regular Broadway rehash that we usually get down here in the sticks.

The action takes place on an excursion liner from New York City to Coney Island; therein we see a slice of life, characters twisted and broken in the crucible of a big, tough city, trying to snatch a moment's happiness on a dirty boat traveling back and forth on its narrow course. There are many kinds of people aboard, and through the talent of the author, each is real and vivid besides being the symbol for all the rest of the type. The captain of the tub decides to rescue his motley crew of passengers from the grind of their daily lives. Just for spite we won't say how he goes about it, but the method is novel. The outcome is not. Moral: There is no escape.

Mr. Larry Beckerman, a student in these fair cloisters, is a Communist. In the play, he isn't a very good one, and gets himself in something of an emotional jam. The part itself is unconvincing, so Mr. B's histrionics are vague if not all his fault. Acting honors will probably go to Bunnie Skinner (as the young wife of a repulsive Italian "celery king") who takes up with a hard-boiled Irishman for the length of the excursion. He, played by Mr. Robert Duncan, being a man, is not nearly so constant as the young woman; he is interested for five hours of the trip; she for six.

Evelyn Diamond and a Mr. Kar-mazzan are priceless as an elderly pair of Jewish folk; more than once they tug at the heart-strings; more than once they rescue a faltering climax with their flawless playing. William Girvan, head scenery man, is to be given credit for two ingeniously realistic sets; his lighting is excellent and serves to heighten the eerie element in the latter part of the show.

Mr. Strickland, Civic Theatre's show director, should have a hit on his hands for his direction is fine; his handling of difficult and interwoven crowd scenes is a pleasure to witness. In talking with Mr. Strickland we learned that he is greatly interested in college dramatics. So interested that he has promised to address the eager thespians of Cue and Curtain in the near future.

"Excursion" opens tomorrow night at the Wardman Park Theatre.

Other conventions peculiar to opera must be accepted, just as we accept them on the stage. In Italian opera particularly, we expect the action to be stopped while the tempo steps to the center of the stage and sings a song, or "aria." Then we wait while the audience applauds his rendition. In addition, all the "recitative" or dialogue is also sung, and to complain it is no more reasonable than the attitude of the young man who, after seeing "A Midsummer Night's Dream," was scornful about the fairies. "You know there isn't any such thing as a fairy," he said.

Beyond all this we must learn to appreciate the music itself, for this is the heart of an opera. After a few hearings, "La donna e mobile" in Rigoletto will be appreciated in the same way as "The Last Rose of Summer" in Martha.

If you've never seen an opera, try it. Make an honest effort to understand it. It may open a new world to you.

Only Yesterday

The following collection is one of gems uncovered by members of the Literary Club among their early works (of last semester perhaps). They are passed along so that you may enjoy part of the pleasure of their red-faced authors (who must, alas, be nameless).

The Editor:
Diminishing Emphasis (or more technically, Anti-Climax) Department:
"Perish, ye heretics; die, ye vomit of the earth; to hell with you!"

The blossoming tree, in the wind-blown beauty of its effervescent adolescence, is a sight which heals even the sorest of eyes."

Excerpt from Infant Eroticism:
"Larch danced with a gold-and-green person, who swayed with carefully equated languorous immorality... her golden bob in his neck." (From book-length novel at age thirteen and a half.)

Ain't He Gorgeous?
"Carl has smooth yet wavy hair, a Greek brow, eyes that reflect the sky, and a chin you want to cradle in your palm."

What, No Bimetallism?
"Leila pulled on golden stockings slowly and when the golden stockings were stretched taut and straight over her long, straight, golden legs, she would put on a golden gown."

As a subtitle, it is suggested that we use "Stinkies." —The Editor.

"YOUR LAUNDRY'S BACK"...

Whether it's sent collect or prepaid, your laundry always arrives quickly, safely, by Railway Express—the favorite laundry route of generations of college men and women. Low rates. No added charge for pick-up and delivery—just phone nearest Railway Express office. Second and Eye Sts., N.E. Phone National 1200 Branch Office—Shureham Bldg., 1205 H St., N. W. Phone National 1200 Washington, D. C. RAILWAY EXPRESS AGENCY, INC. NATION-WIDE RAIL-AIR SERVICE

The Opening of the Buff n' Blue Room

Photo Courtesy of The Washington Post

Shown at the left are Sammy Walker and Bill Rochelle with their dates at the opening of the Buff and Blue Room last Friday night in the Student Club. Painted murals in the background, steps in the business of modern swing, were drawn by Jack Shulman, one of the technical consultants of the undertaking.

Outing Club Plans Initial Trip, Oct. 30

AN Outing Club, which has long been considered by the W. A. A. at the University, will have its initial overnight trip Oct. 30. Justina Brown is chairman of the committee which will arrange for the transportation and food for the trip. The group will use Dr. Bolwell's Southport cottage.

The limit for the group spending the night, which leaves Building H at 1 p.m. Saturday, is fifteen, but a second unlimited group will leave Building H 9 a.m. Sunday to spend the day. The deadline for signing up for either group is 1 p.m. Oct. 28. It will be $1 per person for the overnights and 50c for the others. Persons spending the night must provide their own blankets and towels.

Outdoor Life Stressed.

An Outing Club is one of the featured sports activities in many colleges, especially in the north. At Dartmouth the club specializes in winter sports. The G. W. club is designed for students who like living out of doors, and its future plans include horseback trips, supper parties, and overnight hikes similar to this first one. The ultimate aim of the club is to own its own cabin and facilities.

Alumni, Students Announce Nuptials Engagements

Several marriages of interest to George Washington students have recently been announced and many engagements of students and graduates of the University forecast future nuptials.

The marriage of Miss Jane Norford of Phil Mu, Alexandria, Va., to Mr. Ross Pope, Sigma Chi, and son of senator and Mrs. James Pope of Idaho, took place in Boise, Idaho October 6. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Pope will reside in Boise.

The marriage of John Linton and Miss Louise Raepet took place the latter part of the summer in Stratford, Virginia. Mr. Linton was a member of Theta Delta Chi at the University.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Donohue to Captain Carney of the U. S. Marine Corps has just been announced by Miss Donohue's parents. The bride elect was a pledge to Pi Beta Phi.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch C. Smallwood announces the engagement of their daughter, Hazel, to Mr. William Brecht Hanback. Mr. Hanback is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Gamma Key. He was graduated from the law school in 1934. Miss Smallwood, who is attending the University, is prominent in the Women's Athletic Association.

From the looks of Tom Collins' eye, Mary Betty Maxwell has something there. He did have a date with her, and he did get a black eye, too.

Old Love blooms again—Evangeline Rice and Ben Candland met accidentally at school recently. Politician, poker-face, Candland blushed so much during the conversation that he has received nothing but heckling from his fraternity brothers ever since.

Norman Hackett, national visitation officer of Theta Delta Chi, will be entertained by the Washington chapter on Saturday.

The girls who wore the white gladiolas of Zeta Tau Alpha were Geraldine Barnes, Louise Belton, Edith Butler, Clara Carpenter, Lexie Cragin, Frances Douglas, Gretchen Giddings, Elizabeth Leach, Mary Miles, Virginia Moore, Jean Pauly, Marian Swan, Lorraine Williams, Evelyn Wynn.

The pink and white carnations appeared on the pledges Katherine Bowen, Ethel Broome, Sally Drummond, Carolyn Hall, Iris Hammer, Dorothy Hartley, Charlotte Hopkins, Rose-Emily Johnson, Carmen Kimbrough, Nadine Nash, Anita O'Connor, Ione Robinson, Jeanne Stambough, Janice Talbert, Henrietta Thomson of Phi Mu.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the pledging of Josephine Behrman, Phyllis Blumenthal, Sonya Braunstein, Adele Grane, Florence Hayes, Pat Hinden, Toby Katz, Ivy Lehman, Erna Naiman, Sylvia Schmidt, Esther Sennett, Erna Sillman, Violet Smith.

Virginia Aylesbury, Betty Bailey, Betty Brook, Aldine Drury, Jane Flaig, Nancy Gatch, Barbara Gruber, Gean Harris, George Ide, Dorothy Massey, Jane McGraw, Joanne Smith, Margaret Smith, Margaret Whitmore, came with the red car-

nation and delphinium corsage of Pi Beta Phi.

The girls who wore the white gladiolas of Zeta Tau Alpha were Geraldine Barnes, Louise Belton, Edith Butler, Clara Carpenter, Lexie Cragin, Frances Douglas, Gretchen Giddings, Elizabeth Leach, Mary Miles, Virginia Moore, Jean Pauly, Marian Swan, Lorraine Williams, Evelyn Wynn.

The pink and white carnations appeared on the pledges Katherine Bowen, Ethel Broome, Sally Drummond, Carolyn Hall, Iris Hammer, Dorothy Hartley, Charlotte Hopkins, Rose-Emily Johnson, Carmen Kimbrough, Nadine Nash, Anita O'Connor, Ione Robinson, Jeanne Stambough, Janice Talbert, Henrietta Thomson of Phi Mu.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the pledging of Josephine Behrman, Phyllis Blumenthal, Sonya Braunstein, Adele Grane, Florence Hayes, Pat Hinden, Toby Katz, Ivy Lehman, Erna Naiman, Sylvia Schmidt, Esther Sennett, Erna Sillman, Violet Smith.

Virginia Aylesbury, Betty Bailey, Betty Brook, Aldine Drury, Jane Flaig, Nancy Gatch, Barbara Gruber, Gean Harris, George Ide, Dorothy Massey, Jane McGraw, Joanne Smith, Margaret Smith, Margaret Whitmore, came with the red car-

nation and delphinium corsage of Pi Beta Phi.

The girls who wore the white gladiolas of Zeta Tau Alpha were Geraldine Barnes, Louise Belton, Edith Butler, Clara Carpenter, Lexie Cragin, Frances Douglas, Gretchen Giddings, Elizabeth Leach, Mary Miles, Virginia Moore, Jean Pauly, Marian Swan, Lorraine Williams, Evelyn Wynn.

The pink and white carnations appeared on the pledges Katherine Bowen, Ethel Broome, Sally Drummond, Carolyn Hall, Iris Hammer, Dorothy Hartley, Charlotte Hopkins, Rose-Emily Johnson, Carmen Kimbrough, Nadine Nash, Anita O'Connor, Ione Robinson, Jeanne Stambough, Janice Talbert, Henrietta Thomson of Phi Mu.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the pledging of Josephine Behrman, Phyllis Blumenthal, Sonya Braunstein, Adele Grane, Florence Hayes, Pat Hinden, Toby Katz, Ivy Lehman, Erna Naiman, Sylvia Schmidt, Esther Sennett, Erna Sillman, Violet Smith.

Virginia Aylesbury, Betty Bailey, Betty Brook, Aldine Drury, Jane Flaig, Nancy Gatch, Barbara Gruber, Gean Harris, George Ide, Dorothy Massey, Jane McGraw, Joanne Smith, Margaret Smith, Margaret Whitmore, came with the red car-

(Continued from Page 2)

and she can tell that to her girlfriend in Delaware.

"But I don't see why you have to believe it, too."

"I don't believe it, Ellen," he said.

"But for god's sake, be sensible. Dr. Emory doesn't think you ought to be here, anyway; he thinks you'd be better off somewhere where it's quieter."

Putting it mildly, he thought, it's only because her father wrote to the man who owns the place, and because she's not dying so loudly everybody else will hear her doing it, that they let her stay here at all.

A heart-attack can be quiet, at least, it's not as if she had some unpleasantly audible disease, the sort of thing that makes you have to give references at hotels in New Mexico or Arizona.

"I like this place," she said. "I always liked hotels, and after the hospital I wanted to go somewhere gay and gaudy. Besides, you always said you wanted to live in hotels."

"Yes," he said, "that way, too. I always did hate homes and things like that. These places that advertise a home-like atmosphere and mean they'll give you just about the same service you're accustomed to at home and you won't even be allowed to complain about it."

"That's right," he said, vaguely, thinking in a little while, I can get out of here, anticipating already the evening of the bright reassurance of the lights, the hard young girls very pleased and conscious of themselves, the light dresses pleasant against the dark wood of the dining-room, and everything feeling fine and accustomed again.

"She's pretty, isn't she?" his wife said. "That girl who spoke to you that night."

"Yes," he said, "she's all right. She's only a kid, though, a little dumb, too."

"How long have you been demanding intellect in women?" she said.

"Well," he said, "what suggested that? One thing about Benji, she plays good tennis. She'll be in the championship class some time, if she works out."

"Benji?" he said.

"You wouldn't expect me to call her Benjamin, would you?" he said, carefully.

"Do you play tennis with her, Stuart?" she said.

"Sometimes."

"I thought you always said you never played with women."

"I never knew a woman who was that good, before."

"Stuart," she said quickly, bitterly, "if you go with girls while I'm here like this, if you go with them while you know what's happening to me..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

"Oh, listen," he began to say, and at least, he thought, there's nothing for her to know yet, "don't be dumb, Ellen..."

"I lie in bed here all day," she said, "and then you go with other women. She's not more than seventeen, either, I'll bet. If you go with them while I'm like this, Oh," she said, "goddam you, I think that's the meanest thing I ever heard of. If all the time you were with her..."

If You Love Me

and I didn't know it. I will die then, if you want me to, I'll get up and go downstairs and I'll make them rent me a horse and I'll ride again, or I'll drink as much as I can, or anything I want to do. I'll do something that will make me die and then you can do what you want to do. But I think it's the meanest thing I ever heard of. You know I'm going to die."

"Ah, Ellen," he said, "listen, don't be like that. If you yell that way, Miss Hais will come in, not that I don't think she's listening anyway, from the look she gave me when I came in. All she wants is an excuse to come in here and put me out."

"All right," she said. "I don't believe that, anyway. It's just I'm alone here and all the time and they never let me see you and I can't stand thinking about it. I don't care anyway, you go and have all the girls you want but don't like them as much as you did me. You do love me, don't you, Stuart? You don't think I'm going to die?"

"Sure," he said, fixing his mind firmly on nothing, considering carefully, vacantly, the solid pattern of light set agreeably on the farther wall, across from the window, the formal frame of the curtains, anything else but that. "I love you and you're not going to die."

"But it's bad for me," she said. "I worry about it all the time and I can't help it when I get this way. If you loved me, I wouldn't die."

"I do love you," he said. Feeling the soft, closer touch of her body, her hands moving quick with love to him, he felt the same heavy warning in his nerves. That she can feel like this, he thought, that she can know how it is now and still want it to be the way it used to be, shocked at her recollection of her body as a living instrument of love, not then a case, delicate as glass, to guard the inner, precious form of death. Death to be kept like platinum, like radium or some fine, dangerous product; if the case was broken it would all come spilling out.

"Don't do that, Ellen," he said, quickly.

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll be with you."

"I want to, though," she said. "I love you so much, Stuart, I think about it all the time, more even than I used to, and then you don't want me."

"Oh," he said, "have some sense, Ellen. You know it would kill you if I made love to you."

"I wouldn't care if it did," she said. "I'm going to die anyway and I'll

Victories Gained By Four
Colonial Opponents Last Week. Three Beaten

Hatchet Sports

Intramural Football Gets
Under Way This Week;
Four Teams Organized

Buff And Blue Ready To 'Shoot The Works' Against Crimson Tide

Colonials, Busily Preparing For Crimson Tide Battle on Saturday, Promise Plenty of Trouble For Visitors

REALIZING the significance and importance of the game with the Crimson Tide of Alabama, the Buff and Blue have been busily preparing for the battle and intend to make noble their bid for national fame by upsetting the highly favored southerners in the game at Griffith Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

Boasting its most powerful eleven in the history of football at the University in recent years, the Colonials stand in the best position that any Buff and Blue team has ever enjoyed to turn the tide. Coach Jim Pilee's 1937 aggregation possesses a world of power on the line, a versatile and shifty backfield that combine to make a really potential squad of over 30 players, who in the words of Possum Jim will stack up well against any high class competition.

In addition to a well balanced "first team" the Crimson Tide will have to face a string of reserves whose ability is practically that of the regulars. Then, too, with Biff Borden, Vic Sampson, Joe Kaufman, Bruce Mahan, Frank Merka, Bogdan Nickick, and Jay Turner ready to be thrown into the battle, the "Bama line" will face a withering bombardment of top-notch backfield men.

The coaches' biggest problem during the past two weeks has been that of polishing off the "ruff diamond" so that a well-balanced, powerful and high-spirited team will take the field on Saturday. Although injuries have to some extent affected the team, the Colonials will be in readiness for Alabama practically at full strength.

Holt Is Still Out

Tippy Holt is probably the only man who will not see action against Frank Thomas' team, for the flanker is still nursing an injured ankle, which was at first believed to have been sprained, but which it is now feared is more seriously injured.

Others who have suffered injuries, all of a minor nature, but who will be ready for action on Saturday are Pete Yurwitz, who has been favoring a minor ankle sprain; Biff Borden, whose bruised leg has been quite bothersome; Sunny Jones, who is recovering in fine shape from an infected eye; Bob Nowasky, whose "rick" knee has been the cause of much discomfort; and Vic Sampson, who for the past week has been afflicted with a chest cold that has favorably responded to treatment.

With brighter prospects than in the past two meetings of the two teams, the Colonials' supporters will watch this contest with intense interest realizing the significance that a victory for the team will bring and the tremendous blow to the Crimson Tide, who at the present are justly entertaining Rose Bowl hopes.

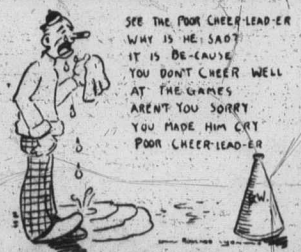

The Probable Starting Line-ups Are:

George Washington, Alabama
Pete Yurwitz, L.E., Tut Warren
Duce Keashey, L.T., Jim Tipton
Guy Renzaglia, L.G. (c), L. Monksy
Allen Hallberg, C. Jack Machloff
Ted Cottingham, R.G. P. Shoemaker
Bob Nowasky, R.T., Jim Ryba
Jay Turner, R.E. P. Shoemaker
John Rehholz, Q.B., Hal Hughes
Lloyd Berry, L.H., Joe Kilgore
Bruce Mahan, R.H. George Zivich
Joey Kaufman, F.B. Charley Helm

Football Schedule

Oct. 23—Alabama
29—Tulsa*
Nov. 5—Mississippi University
13—North Dakota State
(homecoming)
20—Arkansas, at Little Rock.
25—West Virginia, at Morgan-town

*Indicates Friday night games.

"I SAW YOUR AD
IN THE HATCHET"
Mention The Hatchet
When You Buy

YEAH, COLONIALS!

"I may have a lot to learn," says one little freshman, "but one thing I do know;

the smartest men buy at

DAVE MARGOLIS
CORNER 22nd AND G STS. N. W.

WATCH this ad for your name. If it appears here you may call at our store any time within 10 days from date of this ad and select any hand-tailored cravat from our splendid assortment of fine ties.

Alabama's Record Great Under Thomas

COACH FRANK THOMAS, who brings his Alabama team to town Saturday, will also bring one of the most enviable records of big time coaches.

Playing his college football at Notre Dame, Thomas was quarterback of the Irish teams from 1920 thru 1922. This was just prior to the period of the famed Four Horsemen. He is a graduate of the Notre Dame law school.

Appointed head coach at Chattanooga University in 1925, Thomas was the first coach to introduce the Notre Dame system in the South. He remained here until 1929, setting up a record of 20 wins, 6 losses and 1 tie. While at Chattanooga, he had two championship seasons, in 1927 and 1928.

In 1931, Thomas became head coach at Alabama University, where he has become nationally famous for his constantly great teams. While at Alabama, he has compiled a record of 48 wins against only 6 losses and 3 ties. His teams of 1933 and 1934 represented the East in the Rose Bowl and on both occasions returned victorious.

Coach Thomas will be interviewed by Arch McDonald Friday night at 6:15 p.m. over Station WJSV. Thomas and Arch are old friends, both having been at Chattanooga from 1925 until 1928.

Thomas and Hank Crisp, athletic director at Alabama, will be guests of the Touchdown Club, Friday night at 7:00 p.m. at one of the local hotels.

Sport Axe

By Howard Mace

WHEN the Colonials take to the field at Griffith Stadium Saturday afternoon against the powerful Crimson Tide of Alabama they will have the golden opportunity of becoming the center of the sports spotlight, for if the Buff and Blue should upset the "Bama powerhouse, they would in the course of the afternoon's efforts become one of the major powers in the nation's gridiron circles.

Even though there are many of us who would become of a somewhat over-enthusiastic love of our "Alma Mammy", dare to predict that the Colonials will win the game on Saturday, I, for one, think that such going-out-on-the-limb is unnecessary. I firmly believe that the game will be one of the finest in the history of football at the University and will be one which will be far more of an even match than the two previous games in which Pilee-coached teams have met the Crimson Tide.

Judging from the record of the Tide to date, the dope all points to an Alabama victory in the third meeting of the two teams in the past seven years. Despite two setbacks in the two previous games, 28-6 in 1932 and 39-0 in 1935, Coach Pilee feels that his team will make a far more interesting battle of it on Saturday. And there is certainly basis for such feelings on the part of Possum Jim.

For one thing, the Colonials have probably the finest team from the standpoint of man power that has ever been assembled by a coaching staff at the University. There are at least 30 players whom the coaches can justly trust to perform at top-notch pace against the type of competition furnished by Alabama and the rest of the Colonial opponents.

In addition there is a definite psychological advantage which the Colonials will doubt enjoy in preparing for the game. In the first place the Colonials have had a rest of two weeks in speculation of the coming battle. During that period the time has been spent in very valuable practice which should have ironed all the kinks that were all too apparent in the first two games. Then, too, the Tennessee battle should have definitely taken some of the "stiff" out of the Crimson Tide, for the game was anything but a set-up for the "Bamans. The week following the Colonial-Alabama game the southerners will play the University of Kentucky in their annual contest, so the Tide will probably hold something in reserve for that important game.

If the upsets of last week's big games are to be held as any indication of the trend which the sport will follow throughout the season, a victory by the Colonials would be no great surprise. The only known method of comparing two teams that will play at any future date is to compare the records compiled by those two teams in their past games. All such comparisons give a decided edge to the Crimson Tide, for the Buff and Blue have only two victories to date, both by not any too impressive margins. True, the outcome of the Wake Forest battle put the Pileemen on a figurative par with Tennessee, but there again the Colonials suffer by comparison when the 14-7 victory over the Vols by Alabama is considered.

The only thing that the loyal supporters of the Colonials can reasonably hope for is the unusual and for the breaks of the game, coupled with the fight that the Colonials are such to put up, to combine to count for an upset of the Crimson Tide, an upset that would immediately boom the Buff and Blue to a high national ranking.

Alabama Defeats U. of Tennessee By Score of 14-7

BEFORE some 25,000 fans at Knoxville, Tennessee, the Crimson Tide of Alabama combined passing and power to conquer Tennessee, 14-7, and thereby maintain her unblemished record and strengthen her bid for Southern Conference honors.

Led by Joe Kilgore, one of the south's greatest triple-threat artists, the "Bama team, which meets the Colonials here on Saturday afternoon, dominated the play for three of the four quarters and allowed the Vols to assert themselves only in the last few minutes of play, during which time the Tennessee team pushed over their lone touchdown, the first and only score made on Alabama during the season.

Following a series of powerful ground attacks which proved to be futile in the face of the opposition of the husky Tennessee line, Joe Kilgore's passes to Charley Holm, end, made possible the first Tide marker. Following a 58-yard march based upon this passing combination and another pass from Herschel Moseley to "Peg" Davis which put the ball on the Vols' 5-yard marker, Vic Bradford, substitute quarterback, pulled the famous quarterback "sneak" for a score.

In the third quarter the Alabama attack began to click for the first time. Soon after the Tide recovered a kick-off fumble by Tennessee, Kilgore again led the touchdown trek, making substantial gains through the Tennessee line.

With the Crimson's two great ends, Warren and Perron Shoemaker, allowing big yardage on end-around plays, Hal Hughes, Tide quarterback, tallied from the 1-foot line to end a sustained 52-yard drive.

In the last few minutes of the game the Vols rallied and, on a series of sensational plays centered around George Cafego, advanced some 68 yards to score.

Football, Tennis and Golf Competition Gets Under Way

THE intramural touch football league has been formed and boasts four teams: the Bears, Panthers, Gophers, and Lions. A schedule has been drawn which will bring all of the teams in play against each other twice before the season closes. To make the tourney more interesting and to give the slow starters a chance at the spoils, the schedule will be played in two halves, and the winners of each half will play to determine the league champion.

As an addition to the schedule, games will be arranged with Maryland and Georgetown to play the local champions.

Max Farrington has spared nothing to make the league a success and has arranged to have the teams and games supervised by capable men. No less personages than our varsity football-men, Tippy Holt, Lew Carroll, Bob Nowasky, Ralph Zelaska, Thillie and Les Nordquist will alternate as referee, head linesman, and umpire for the games.

The intra-mural committee in charge of touch football, composed of Max Farrington, Tim Monahan, Al Hasinger, and J. R. Canning have announced that Hoagland and Carrier will coach the Lions; Merka and Eberle, the Panthers; Kaufman and A. Nowasky, the Gophers; and Hogg and Berry, the Bears.

All games will be played at 1:30 a.m. per schedule on the playground at 12th St. and Constitution Ave. A list of team members and as well as the By-Laws is posted on the Gym bulletin board.

The schedule for this week is:
Oct. 19, Bears vs. Lions.
Oct. 20, Panthers vs. Gophers.
Oct. 21, Lions vs. Gophers.

Intramurals Open Golf Tournament

Play in the intramural golf tournament gets well under way today with three opening matches being scheduled. Six men will step up to the East Potomac Park tees and get their 18 hole matches under full swing.

Green fees will be paid by the contestants and players arriving more than fifteen minutes late will lose their match through forfeit.

The opening round pairings are Fischer and Bernstein at one o'clock; Pellman and Marvin at three-thirty; while Feldman and Nathanson will play tomorrow at twelve-thirty. Turrou and Le Sells will start second round play today at twelve-thirty, both having received byes in the first round.

Complete first and second round schedules are posted on the bulletin board in the tin tabernacle.

Intramural Tennis Starts Tomorrow

Keeping pace with intramural golf and touch football, intramural tennis also gets under way this week. Preliminary rounds and first round matches will be played at the Monument Grounds where courts will be furnished.

Seeded netmen in the tourney are: Davis, Hancock, Lungarger and Gorin. Schedule for this week is as follows:

Wednesday
2 p.m.—Quintrell vs. Carroll
3 p.m.—Hancock vs. S. Baker
4 p.m.—Miller vs. Gorin
Thursday
2 p.m.—E. Baker vs. Wiffie
3 p.m.—Robinson vs. Veldman
Friday
2 p.m.—Yadkousky vs. Goldberg
3 p.m.—Meola vs. Blankin
3 p.m.—Sutherland vs. Mann
4 p.m.—Lungarger vs. Levin

FROSH FOOTBALL

All frosh football games with the exception of the Y. M. C. A. team from Carney Point, N. J., have been postponed. Lack of material is the reason for the postponement, according to Jim Sexton, yearling coach.

Four Colonial Enemies Win; Three Lose

WITH one third of the 1937 grid season a matter of history, past and future G. W. opponents began Saturday to settle into mid-season stride. Mississippi's defeat at the hands of L. S. U. left Alabama the only Colonial foe with a perfect record.

The Tide continued to roll submerging the Orange of Tennessee, 14-7, but the Vols proved, at least, that the Red Elephant line can be scored upon.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, completely bewildering their opponents with a fake lateral and run play, defeated the Texas Longhorns, 21 to 10. The defeat completely ruined Texas' coach, Dana Bibbes, return to Southwest Conference warfare. Ole Miss, going into the game with only a tie marring its record held the powerful Tigers of L. S. U. scoreless through three quarters, but the Louisiana attack started rolling in the fourth to score two touchdowns, winning 13-0.

Tulsa and Rice battled to a scoreless tie down in Houston. Playing in a driving rain, the Hurricanes were never able to get their famed passing attack into operation, and were outgunned by their Texas opponents 128 yards to 104.

West Virginia, with whom the Colonials ring down the curtain Thanksgiving Day, defeated a strong Xavier College aggregation 13-7.

North Dakota State, Homecoming rivals stopped Carleton 6-0. The North Dakotans, weakened by the loss of several linemen have so far had a poor showing for the season. The Deacons of Wake Forest, whom the Colonials defeated 34-6 again took it on the chin, dropping a decision to North Carolina, 28-0. The undefeated Tarheels marched through the Deacon line almost at will, scoring in every quarter.

West Virginia Wesleyan, the last G. W. victim, dropped a close one to Davis-Elkins, 6-0.

In THE SATURDAY EVENING POST this week

THEY TRIED TO KIDNAP THE KAISER

HERE at last are the intimate facts behind one of the most amusing stories of the A.E.F. Imagine, if you can, a crazy plot to snatch the Kaiser from Holland and cart him off to Woodrow Wilson as a gift! How eight Army men actually got into the library of the Kaiser's residence, what upset their plans, and how they were dealt with afterwards, is told now in detail. A story that had even GHQ chuckling after it was all over! Turn to page 5 this week in the Post.

by T. H. ALEXANDER

HOW THOSE TOUCHDOWNS HAPPENED

Kelley turns the game inside out and tells you who was bright and who was dumb in those Yale games last year. Wise cracks, football tricks, play secrets, and high spots from Princeton, Navy (that dribbled ball), Army, and Harvard games, he writes all, in this second of two articles.

Everybody There Saw Kelley
by LARRY KELLEY
with George Trevor

"At EXACTLY 3:28 I SHOOT MYSELF"

—and every night I dream the same thing. Has someone hypnotized me? An eccentric millionaire gives Hercule Poirot a strange case, so strange M. Poirot turns it down. Then a week later things happen—at 3:28...

A NEW HERCULE POIROT MYSTERY

The Dream
by AGATHA CHRISTIE

AND IN THE SAME ISSUE

A DRAMA OF THE FOREIGN LEGION. Captain Cormier and Convict No. 1181 fight it out. Read The Highest Stakes by Georges Surdez.
FEUD FOLLOWED BY PICNIC SUPPER. That's what Edgar ran into that week in the bayou. A new brand of comedy and a new author in Edgar and the Dank Morass by George Sessions Perry.
THE DAFT MARE... The story of a woman who was sensible about everything in the world but her boy. By Margaret Weymouth Johnson.

MARIE CURIE—MY MOTHER. The most dramatic chapter in her life story, by Eve Curie.

PLUS new chapters in Alice Duer Miller's dramatic novel, AND ONE WAS BEAUTIFUL. And the James Warner Bellah South Seas mystery, SEVEN MUST DIE... Articles... Editorials... Humor... Cartoons.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Now at your newsstand

Union Enlarges Its Program

As the George Washington Union prepared to open its 3rd session November 3, the Executive Committee of the legislature announced adoption of a revised and enlarged program.

The three-point program embraces:

1. Four instead of 9 legislative sessions during the year.
2. Sponsorship of the University of Melbourne-George Washington varsity debate.
3. Co-sponsorship with the Sophomore Club of a dance following the initial meeting.

Revision of the committee and legislative set-up was the direct result, the Council explained, of a memorandum written by members of the Left and Center Parties during the summer. The memorandum, excerpts from which were published in The Hatchet early in the year, analyzed the idea and history of the Union, and presented a program to carry out its original functions.

To Meet Sundays
Under the new plan, four legislative sessions meeting on Sunday afternoons will be held. The four committees will each consist of 25 members of the Union, and will be subdivided into units of research, program, secretariat, and others by committee heads.

The Executive Council chose as general committee topics: agriculture, foreign relations, labor, and social welfare. Committee chairman will be announced after the next Council meeting.

The Union calendar, as now set, provides for the opening meeting on November 3, with a guest speaker. On November 29, the Union will co-sponsor the Melbourne Debate with the Public Speaking Department, and the session will sit as judges. The agriculture committee will report on December 12 or 19, the exact date depending upon whether the Union will also sponsor the Cambridge debate.

Committees Listed
Foreign relations will be the topic of the meeting scheduled for the first Sunday after Christmas; the labor committee will report the first Sunday in February, and the social welfare committee the first Sunday in March.

The inauguration of James Speer as president of the Union will take place Nov. 3. Afterwards the first Union social function ever held by the group will be held in the Student Club, the dance sponsored jointly with the Sophomore Club. A special committee was appointed by the Executive Council to work out plans for the affair is composed of Everett Bellows, chairman; Earl Eisenhardt, and Layton McNichols.

James Mott, who directed the Union's campaign publicity, was elected as chairman of the publicity committee for the entire year.

Baker Will Speak

The Literary Club will meet Oct. 25th at 8:15 p. m. in the Columbian House.

Prof. Courtland Baker will speak on "Contemporary Poetic Plays." His discussion will include the following plays: Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset," T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral," W. H. Auden's "Dog Beneath the Skin" and "Ascent of F-6."

Bama

(Continued from Page 1)

scoring punch this season. He has been called upon to carry the brunt of the kicking, passing, and ball-toting duties. It was largely on his account that his team gained a 14-7 edge over Tennessee, for his passes to Charley Holm and "Tut" Warren, left end, put the ball in scoring position for the first touchdown and his broken field running helped largely to make the second score possible.

Captain Leroy Monsky at left guard, "Tut" Warren at left end, and Perron Shoemaker at right end furnish the chief power of the forward wall for the Crimson, all three ranking among the best in southern football circles.

Of the 48 men on the Alabama squad, 23 men are from the state of Alabama. Of the men from other states, most come from Arkansas, which places seven men on the team. Next in line are Mississippi, Tennessee, and Indiana with three each, while two men are from Florida, Kentucky and Georgia. Missouri, Illinois and the District place one man each on the squad. Dick Absher, husky 193 pound reserve guard, is the D. C. representative on the team. Still a sophomore, Dick shows much promise and may see action in the Colonial battle.

STANDARD ENGRAVING CO., INC.
Photo-Engraver
Line, Halftone, and Color Work
1214 19TH ST., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C.

WANTED: Talented Pianist
FROM 10 TO 1 A.M.
APPLY MISS WOOD
"WOODSHED"
1812 H St.

RENT
STANDARD MAKE
Typewriter
$3 PER MONTH
3 MONTHS $7.50
NO DEPOSIT
Free Delivery
Late models. New portable-rebuild standards, $19.50 up. Easy terms. Free estimates on repairs. Phone NAt. 5184.
TYPEWRITER SALES
& SERVICE COMPANY
TRANSPORTATION BLDG.
911 17th STREET N.W.

Freshman Club Elects Nathanson President

Irwin Nathanson, who attended Woodrow Wilson High School, was elected president of the Freshman Club which started organizing for the coming semester last Wednesday, when 100 students met in Corcoran 10 to elect officers. Nathanson, who defeated Edward McKnew, worked with an unofficial Freshman committee which volunteered to help start organization proceedings.

In a run-off ballot for the vice-presidency, Elsie Carper defeated Marjorie Burch. Elsie Carper was also a member of the pre-election organization committee.

Irma Silman won the position of secretary in a close contest with Betty Bailey and Rose Emily Johnson.

Eugene Lerner defeated James Nickols for the office of treasurer. The club is planning a series of dances to be held during the coming semester and will co-operate with the Student Union and the Sophomore Club on a dance tentatively set for Nov. 3. Appointments to the executive committee of the organization will be announced next week by Nathanson.

Baptist Union Will Hold Reception

Foreign students of George Washington University will be special guests of the Baptist Student Union at the annual reception to be held at the First Baptist church, 16th and O Sts., N. W., Friday, October 22, at 8 o'clock. Plans for a program have been completed and refreshments will be served. All students are invited.

The council of the Union also announced plans for two student speaking teams who will conduct programs in the Kendall Baptist, Grace Baptist and Fountain Baptist churches in the near future on the subject of modern youth and religion. The teams are under the direction of Frances Douglas and John Brock. Other team members are Lucy Locke Majure, Leo Barndt, Haley Scurlock and Patty Lee.

"Le Cercle" Meets

The French club, officially known as "Le Cercle Français Universitaire," will hold its first meeting of the year on Oct. 27, at 8:30 p. m. in Columbian House.

RadioSeminar Hears Stanton

Dr. Frank N. Stanton, manager of the Market Research Division of the Columbia Broadcasting System, will speak under the sponsorship of Prof. Steuart Henderson Britt, of the psychology department, on "Psychology in Radio" next Monday at 8 p. m. He will discuss psychological research in the field of radio listening and will explain some of the techniques used in the radio industry to the seminar class in "Radio."

Dr. Stanton, who formerly taught experimental psychology at Ohio State University, will arrive on a late afternoon plane Monday and will be available for discussion of problems in radio.

Professor Britt is offering a seminar in "The Radio" in connection with his work in social psychology and public opinion, and Dr. Stanton's lecture is one of two in the series which is open to all students of the University.

Independents Meet

The Independent Men's Organization will meet in D-102 Wednesday at 8 p. m. to organize for the school year.

Officers for the year will be elected at the meeting and plans for an organized program will be discussed.

All men students unaffiliated with social fraternities are urged to attend.

Methodists Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Wesley Club was held Wednesday night in Columbian House. Mr. Arthur Brown was guest speaker of the evening. His topic was, "Success."

The club is arranging an interesting schedule of activities for this year. All George Washington Methodists are invited to participate.

Band Sponsors Dance

The University swing band under the sponsorship of the Student Council will give a dance Nov. 19, in the Student Club to help finance its trip to the Thanksgiving Day game with West Virginia at Morgantown.

Admission will be 75c per couple. It is planned to have several features during the evening.

The dance committee consists of Howard Mace, Sydney Cross and Phillip Fairchild.

Sophomore Club Re-elects Wayne Kniffin

Wayne Kniffin was re-elected president of the Sophomore Club at the elections held last Thursday, defeating Phil Fairchild for this office. Julia Evans, previously announced as a candidate, withdrew from the race, throwing her support to Kniffin.

Charles Gastrock withdrew his nomination for vice-president and Julia Evans was nominated from the floor by George Walter. She defeated Martha Schoenfeld for this office.

Betty Clayton was elected secretary in a close race with Connie Wadden.

John Rhodes won the office of treasurer, defeating Frank Mann.

Executive committee appointments and plans for the coming semester will be announced next week. The Sophomore Club will co-operate with the Student Union and the Freshman Club on a dance which has tentatively been set for November 3.

A meeting of the Club will be held on Thursday at 12:30. The place of the meeting will be posted in the Student Club on Tuesday.

Collier Addresses Chapel

"Christian Charity and the Law" will be the subject of the chapel talk by Prof. Charles Sager Collier Friday, at 12:10 p.m. Prof. Collier will point out that the law, especially in its administration, is not unaware of the principle of mercy and of the vivifying influence that this may have in rehabilitating the transgressor.

Chapel talks that have been scheduled for succeeding Fridays are:

October 29, "Blessed are the Meek," Dean Lapham.

November 5, "Striving for an Ideal," Professor Young.

November 12, "Ye Must be Born Again," Dr. Wilbur.

Newman Club Meets

The Newman Club will hold its first regular meeting next Thursday night at the Columbian House at eight-thirty. Tom Dobson urges all old and new members to be present as much important business will be discussed. Plans for the coming Halloween dance at the National Women's Country Club on Oct. 30, will be formed.

Advanced Frosh English Classes Are Established

Approximately ten per cent of all students in freshman English were transferred last week to advanced sections, where they will complete the course in one semester. Regular sections will take the entire year's work.

Four Groups Advanced

Four new class groups of 30 students each were set up to take care of the advanced freshmen, Prof. Douglas Bement said. These are being conducted by Miss Martha Gibson and Mrs. Anita Young Hersey.

Promotions were made on the basis of the first three weeks' work, plus ratings given on three themes, Bement said. Where it was determined that a student's background in composition was sufficiently sound, he was advanced. Although these students will not study as much literature as freshmen in past years it is expected they will enroll later in one of the regular literature courses.

New Plan Advanced

These changes mark first application of the new plan under which all freshmen will be required to enroll in first-year English. There will be no placement tests, and no exemptions from more than one semester in the course.

Approximately 1,000 are enrolled in the course this year. In 33 sections of 30 students each, classes will be held as closely as possible to the maximum of 30. Bement said, which has been made possible through addition of three new English associates.

Britt Heads Panel On Criminology

Prof. Steuart Henderson Britt, of the psychology department, headed the discussion panel at the Wardman Park Theatre last Tuesday evening for a lecture in the crime clinic program of the Institute of Criminal Science of Washington.

The principal speaker was Dr. Harvey Zorbaugh, of New York University, who spoke on the subject "Parental Management in the Early Emotional Development of the Child." This was the second of the twenty-eight lectures in the series.

On the discussion program, with Dr. Britt were Miss Bertie Backus, principal of the Alice Deal High School, and Miss Mary Haworth, columnist of the Washington Post.

Left Party Will Give "Hunchback Of Notre Dame"

Presenting "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," with Lon Chaney, the star of many weird movie dramas, next Friday in Corcoran Hall, members of the Left party will inaugurate a new method of collecting money to assist in financing expenditures of the party. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, and in addition to the feature a Mickey Mouse cartoon and a travelogue will be shown.

Meeting in Corcoran Hall last Wednesday, the Leftists named the following officers and delegates:

Left Delegates

Everett Bellows, chairman; Milton Salkind, vice-chairman; Hazel Dahl, secretary; Jane Ramseyer, treasurer; Louis Lazaroff, publicity manager; Si Rottenberg, program director; Ruth McMillan, librarian; Madison Byrd, Rita Van Oesen, Francis Barnhardt, auditing committee; Everett Bellows, Goodykoontz and Don Cooper, representatives to the Executive Council.

Left delegates to the Union:

Everett Bellows, William Goodykoontz, Don Cooper, Joe Jaffe, Louis Lazaroff, Albert Miller, Jane Ramseyer, Si Rottenberg, Rita Van Oesen, Tatyana Jansy, Rhoda Epstein, Howard Ennes, George Pughe, Madison Byrd, John Humphreys, Francis Barnhardt, Clara Brasel, Hazel Dahl, Richard Maurer, Kay Elnex, Thomas Dowd, Samuel Katz, Robert Bruenel, Ruth McNeil, Rena Garewitz, Herbert Stern, Mathilde Bahar, Edith Botkin, Charles Colman, Henry Robertson, Norman Rose, Toby Gerber and Ray Eastlin.

Center Delegates

Representatives from the Center party, as announced last week, are:

John Allen, Wendall Anderson, Henry Bens, Eleanor Corbett, Larry Cox, Robert Doolan, Clyde W. Elliott, Margaret Engelbach, Sammy Farha, Theodore Frankel, William Gausmann, Corine Gelwich, John Hanchin, Wayne Kniffin, Richard Lankman, Oliver Larison, Raye J. Lowry, Layton McNichols, Kaimon Marmer, Ward McCabe, Mary Gloria Morrison, James Mott, John L. Palmer, Lloyd Rogers, Stuart Rus-

Engineers Hold Banquet Initiation

George Otis Sanford, superintendent of maintenance and operations of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, was initiated as the first honorary member of Gamma Beta chapter of Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity, last Saturday night.

The initiation as held in conjunction with the annual founders' day banquet at the Hay-Adams House on the same evening.

The operation and maintenance of many huge reclamation projects, such as Boulder Dam, Grand Coulee Dam and Roosevelt Dam come under Sanford's direction.

Theta Tau chooses men for honorary membership only from those who have gone far in their profession and who have exhibited unusual leadership in the field of engineering.

Sanford has taken a keen interest in the various affairs of the engineering school of the University, and two years ago was co-leader of the grand march at the Engineers Ball.

He graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute, is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Institute of Agricultural Engineers and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity.

Music Lovers Meet

The Symphony Club will meet Oct. 27, 8 p. m. at the home of Jane Ramseyer, 3505 Davis St. N. W.

Eleanor Bonham will talk on the "Life and Work of Johannes Brahms."

Ahrens Speaks

L. Arletta Ahrens, member of Phi Delta Gamma, graduate sorority, spoke to the Majorie Webster School last Friday on the subject "Chile, Peru and Ecuador."

sell, Herbert I. Schlesinger, Lily Shepard, George Sheya, Lewis Shull, Bob Swords, Betty Stevenson, John Tilton, Viola Weindgart, William Willett, Leonard A. Wilson, Martha Winters and Paul Yost. Officers and delegates of the Right party will be elected Thursday in Cor. 10, George Derr, chairman, announced last night.

"What's your pick for the ALL-STAR...Eddie"

"That's a cinch Paul ..I'm 100% right on this one"

With smokers in every part of the country Chesterfields stand ace high.

It's a cinch they've got what smokers like. You'll find them milder... you'll enjoy that Chesterfield taste.

Chesterfield

...Ace of them all for MILDNESS and TASTE

Get your last minute football predictions and scores from EDDIE DOOLEY with PAUL DOUGLAS Thursdays and Saturdays Columbia Network